This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Chancery. Clement VI. exceeded even the efforts of his predecessors. He began his pontificate by a generous promise to grant benefices to all poor clerks who should come to Avignon and claim them within two months of his coronation. As many as one hundred thousand are said to have come,* and the register for the first year of his pontificate consists of no fewer than twelve volumes. Many of these grants no doubt remained inoperative, but he proceeded to make a number of reservations said to be quite unprecedented. They are duly recorded in the Rules of the Chancery, and allusions to them will be found throughout the volume. Their most important result in England was the making of the Statutes of Provisors and Præmunire in 1351 and 1353. The present volume contains part of the pope's correspondence on this subject with Edward III.

Another large class of business was undoubtedly due to the plague of 1345–1362, which led to a very large demand for plenary remissions at the hour of death. The pope, with his usual generosity, granted such remissions to whole dioceses at once as the plague spread, but the private demand was none the less stimulated, as the more comprehensive indults were usually limited to short periods.

Again, the increase of English prosperity led to an increased demand for portable altars and to the foundation of chantries for which special licences were required; and another large class of business was involved in the restoration to their houses of regular clergy who went without leave to Rome to obtain the jubilee indulgences of 1350.

The letters are, as usual, divided into Secreta, or private and diplomatic correspondence, and Communia, or ordinary business of the Chancery. The Secreta appear only to have been engrossed in the Chancery, and are always, during these pontificates, registered in separate volumes, forming a regular series distinct from the register of Communia. The volumes are of a smaller size, and usually include one year apiece.

The register of Communia in both these pontificates is in large quarto volumes written in single column. There are generally about four volumes to a year, the register for the year being divided into two parts, and each part into two volumes. Each part begins with a table of contents extending over both volumes, and known as Rubricelle, in which the various classes of letters are set down, and under each class a numbered list of the letters it contains, giving brief indications of their principal contents. Frequently the name of the person on whose behalf the letter is issued is alone given; sometimes, however, when the letter is of a nature not sufficiently defined by the class to which it belongs, a short abstract of its contents is added.

There is no distinction in point of matter between the two parts of the register; each is subdivided into precisely the same classes, and it appears to be determined by accident in which part a particular letter is registered.

The part usually begins with 'Curial letters,' being those relating to matters determined in Consistory, and proceeds to provisions of bishoprics and abbacies, which also took place there, vacant dignities, vacant canonries, expectative canonries, vacant benefices, and expectative benefices. After this come appointments of notaries, grants of conservators, of portable altars, and of plenary remissions at the hour of death, and finally miscellaneous indults and orders in pursuance of judicial proceedings. This order, though not always strictly observed, may be taken as typical.

This classification is, of course, too elaborate to have been adopted in the first registration of the letters. They were, as a matter of fact, first registered on separate quires of paper, or in separate note-books, and numbered or classified subsequently. As the process of

They are now to present the said letters and others, copies of which, as well as of the king's letters, are enclosed. Joan, queen of France, has written to the pope that, at her instance, her husband has revoked like novelties attempted against ecclesiastical liberty as regards the cardinals, and members of his and the pope's households, but as this is not enough, the pope has ordered Pastor, archbishop of Embrun, and William, bishop of Chartres, to make instance with queen Joan, and if by her they cannot obtain what is demanded, they are to present monitory letters to king Philip.

The pope has received his envoys, John Carlton, canon of Wells, John de Reppiis, papal penitentiary, and Hugh de Newell, knight, and informs the king that justice forbids him to revoke the processes against the Flemings, but that he is ready to suspend them and the concurrent penalties during the truce between the two kings, holding out a hope to the envoys that if the truce is prolonged, the suspension will likewise continue. This proposal was refused by the king's envoys, as the knight, who is returned, will inform him. Wherefore he prays the king to dispose himself to peace, and to send the ambassadors, whom the pope has been expecting, giving notice of their coming, so that king Philip may send those whom he proposes to meet them.

The pope has received his envoy, Geoffrey de la Mare, knight, coming to the pope, together with Richard de Wimundewold, D.C.L. about the deanery of York, to which Talairand, bishop of Albano, was destined by the pope. But as the king's presentation of Philip de Weston, canon of York, to the said deanery was made contrary to and after the papal reservation and collation of the same, the pope could not accede to the king's request; nevertheless, on seeing the pacts made between the said bishop and Philip, he will do that with which the latter ought to be content.

On Henry's obtaining a sentence against him in the papal court, Robert fraudulently resigned the canonry, and William de Kildesby, who now holds the canonry, succeeded, and Henry hears that he has procured the appointment, by royal warrant, of Thomas called 'Taverner,' of the diocese of Lichfield, and certain others, to seize and imprison him, or his proctors or executors, if they endeavour to carry out the sentence. Ibid. (f. 303.) To the archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of Lincoln. Mandate to replace John Mainowe of Craule in possession of the vicarage of Bradewelle, in the diocese of Lincoln, of which he was despoiled by William Vivian. Appeal was made to Benedict XII. and the cause having been heard by successive auditors, Vivian was removed, and William Parent of Irtlingburgh, whom the rural dean of Flitte found in possession, was inhibited. Parent, however, in despite of sentence issued against him, held the vicarage, and obtained the king's writ for the capture and imprisonment of John and his executor.

Richard thereupon married Joan de Bellomonte, daughter of the uncle of Isabella. Papal commission was issued to William, cardinal of St. Stephen's, to cite the said Richard, Isabella, and Joan, Edmund being then eighteen years old, Master Walter de Segrave and Geoffrey de Borgeys being proctors of Richard. After divers acts, it appeared that Joan should be called Eleanor, and that she was not daughter of Isabella's uncle (soror patruelis), but daughter of Isabella's aunt (neptis ex amita). Edmund was by this time twenty years old, and the pope was petitioned to relax the impediment of age touching the taking of an oath, upon which the cardinal was commissioned to proceed in the cause, Edmund being present, and Richard and Isabella by their proctors, Geoffrey de Burgeis and Simon de Sagio. Appeal was made against the citation of Richard, Isabella, and Eleanor, and was heard before Imbert, cardinal of the Twelve Apostles, Edmund and Geoffrey being present, and Bartholomew de Bononia being proctor for Isabella. Cardinal Imbert supported the action of cardinal William, and condemned the appellants in costs. Appeal against this was made by earl Richard and Isabella, upon which the pope issued this mandate, viz. to cite them within twenty-three days, to appear in person or by their proctors at the papal court within sixty days.

They, with armed accomplices, attacked the said subexecutor and proctor, saying that because they had come to hinder John de Breydon, possessor of the said prebend and treasurership, they should lose their heads, and would have killed them, had not one of the canons and one of the vicars restrained them. Papal mandate having been issued to the archbishop of Canterbury to cite the said parson and John de Breydon, the parson was apprehended by the archbishop's commissary, but Breydon could not then be cited, nor afterwards made to appear before the papal auditor appointed to hear the cause. Confirmation, at the request of John de Sancto Paulo, provost of Wells, who has been litigating against Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, concerning the provostship, of the bishop's subsequent ordinance thereupon, with exemplification as follows :—

(1.) Ordinance of Ralph, bishop of Bath and Wells, dated Wells, 2 August 1344 and confirmed on the same day by the chapter. Exemplifying—

(α) An ordinance of Jocelin, bishop of Bath and Wells, signed by Alexander the dean and part of the chapter, and dated 4 Non. March in the second year of his pontificate, whereby the church of Pilton is made the precentorship of Wells, and the manor of Cumbe, in which the precentorship formerly consisted, is divided into eight prebends, and the provostship of the manor is given to a canon of Wells who is to pay 40*l.* a year to the other canons. Similarly the church of Wynesham—formerly assigned to the chancellorship, and to one prebend of 100*s.*—is assigned to the one prebend of 100*s.* and another consisting of the residue, while the church of Kyngesbyri is assigned to the chancellorship. The church of Evercris is to go to the treasurer, who shall be bound to make sufficient and decent provision of lights, tapers, candles, incense, and all other things which William, late treasurer, was bound to provide. The church of St. Cuthbert, Wells, formerly assigned to the treasurer, is granted in augmentation of the common fund, except the land and rents thereto pertaining. The land, alder grove, and moor of Landsharaleg', formerly belonging to the archdeacon of Wells, is assigned to the succentor, as is the land in the manor of Wells formerly belonging to the treasurer William, except his house, which is to be used in enlarging the church of Wells. Alexander the dean, Hugh the archdeacon, and Thomas the treasurer are named as consenting parties.

(β) Confirmation, not dated, by Thomas, precentor, and the chapter of Wells, of an ordinance made in foreign parts in the presence of Ralph, dean, and part of the chapter, whereby, after the death or resignation of William de Cerde, the manor of Cumbe which produced [eight?] prebends of 100*s.* shall be made into ten prebends of 10 marks each, and a provostship to be held by one of the ten prebendaries who is to be nominated by the bishop. The provost is to pay the other canons 10 marks each a year, by quarterly payments at Wells, and 3 marks to his vicar at Wells.

The canons are to pay at least 2 marks each to their vicars. The provost is also to have the church of Cumbe; and the bishop is to be relieved of the payment of the prebend now held by Richard the official, and charged on the money and debts of the archdeaconry of Wells.

(γ) Ordinance of the same, with the consent of R. dean and the chapter of Wells, dated at Wells on 8 Id. June, anno pont. 10, whereby the church of Chard (Cerda) is united to the provostship, and the provost is to pay 10 marks a year to the office of St. Mary the Virgin, and 10 marks for a prebend, also newly instituted, and conferred on Master William de Kaynesham.

(δ) Ordinance of the same, with the consent of P. dean and the chapter of Wells, dated on the morrow of Christmas, at Wells, anno pont. 29, whereby the provostships of Cumbe, with the churches of Chard (Cerda) and Welinton, and of Wynesham, not being dignities are united into one provostry consisting of the manors of Cumbe and Winesham and the churches of Cumbe, Wynesham, Chard, and Welinton, except a certain land and alder grove called 'Prestlegh,' and a small meadow called 'Spurtmede' within the circuit of the bishop's wood, and belonging to Welinton, in which also a vicarage is to be established consisting of the small tithes and the dues of the altars of Bokland and Welinton, and of the tithes of mills and hay except from the demesnes of the bishop, and of Gerbert, knight, of Welinton, and also of the vicarage house and yard on the south side of the church, and another house on the east. The vicarage of Chard is likewise to consist of small tithes, dues and tithes of hay except as above, out of which the vicar is to pay to the provost 3 marks a year, in quarterly payments; the provost is to have all the sheaves, and a log from the bishop's woods; the vicar is to have a house on the east side of the church, with a yard opposite the provost's court, but is not to build or open new gates in that direction. The vicarages of Chard and Welinton are to be in the bishop's gift. The vicar of Cumbe is also to have the small tithes and offerings of the mother church and the chapel of Wateleston, except the tithe of the lambs, but he is to have the sheaves of beans and the tithe of hay, except from the provost, and a house with a yard on the south side of the street which leads to Staunton. The vicarage of Winesham is also to consist of tithes except from the provost; the vicar is to pay the provost 40*s.* a year, in quarterly payments. If the vicarages of Cumbe and Winesham are not worth 5 marks a year each, the bishop may raise them to that value. The provost is to have the right of presentation. The vicars are to have the cure of souls. The bishop is to have jurisdiction over the churches of Welinton and Chard, and the dean and chapter over those of Winesham and Cumbe. The provost shall distribute 10 marks a year to each of fifteen prebendaries, of whom he shall be one, and 3 marks a year to his vicar at Wells, the other prebendaries 2. The provost may be appointed to a prebend not in his provostry, in which case his prebend may be given to another, but in that case the provost must make up the vicar's salary to 3 marks a year until he gets a better vicarage. He must also pay 20 marks a year to the service of the Blessed Virgin, and 10 marks to the service for the dead. The residue of the profits of the provostry he may keep.

The ordinance (1) further declares that the provost must be a canon, and unites the prebend of Cumbe twelfth, to the provostship, saving the right of the dean and chapter to a year's fruits upon the vacancy of the prebend.

(2.) Confirmation of the same by the dean and chapter of Wells, under the same date.

(3.) Confirmation and exemplification of (1) and (2) by the prior and chapter of Bath, dated at Bath on August 3, 1344.

On this the bishop excommunicated Richard, who returned to the chancellor, pleading that this had been done in contempt of the king's majesty, and that the bishop and the prior of Kersey, Hamo de Betlere, D.C.L. rector of Benere (Bunny), Simon de Sudbiria, D.C.L. rector of Wikambrok, and James, rector of Wrabbenose, in the dioceses of York and Norwich, and other commissaries, had published the excommunication; whereupon he obtained letters citing the bishop and commissaries before the king's justiciars, before whom the said bishop and commissaries took exception that the justiciars could not and ought not to take cognisance of the excommunication, and referred to the archbishop as judge ordinary in the case. The justiciars nevertheless ordered the commissaries to be imprisoned, and the said James was put in the prison of the abbot in the town of St. Edmundsbury. The prior and Hamo lay in hiding, Simon got away privily to the apostolic see, and the justices, the king being abroad, ordered all the goods of the bishop to be seized and remain in the king's hands until the bishop revoked the excommunication, and made satisfaction to Richard, who claims 10,000*l.* damages. The justices then sent royal letters to the sheriffs of Norfolk, Suffolk, Essex, and Middlesex, ordering them to seize all the temporalities of the 3 Id. July. Villeneuve by Avignon. (f. 129*d.*) To John, king of France. Exhorting him to dispose himself to make peace with the king of England, about which negotiations have been carried on by Guy, bishop of Porto, and Henry, duke of Lancaster, and praying him to give credit to Master Raimund Pelegrini, canon of London, bearer of these presents who has been sent because of the delay in the proceedings, and because the truce lately begun is for too short a time.

Ibid. (f. 130*d.*) To Joan, queen of France. Requesting her to give credit to the said Master Raimund.

Ibid. (f. 131.) To Charles, king of Navarre; Peter, archbishop of Rouen; and other French nobles.

Ibid. Memorial of Master Raimund Pelegrini, according to which he will promote the negotiations for peace between the kings of France and England, as commissioned by the pope:—

1. While in France he will first go to and follow the counsel of cardinal Guy de Boulogne [afterwards bishop of Porto].

2. He will then go to the king and set forth to him how the pope, before his promotion, desired to promote the said peace, as did and does also the college of cardinals.

3. The pope intended to send solemn nuncios to the two kings, but reflecting that the cardinal of Bolougne, after conferring with Henry, duke of Lancaster, had obtained that the envoys of both should meet and join him in the negotiation, and trusting that the desired end may be reached by his good services, he desisted from sending the said nuncios.

4. The pope, being distressed at hearing that the negotiation, in spite of the diligence of the cardinal, has been so prolonged, and that the envoys of king Edward did not come to the last meeting, has accordingly sent Master Raymund.

5. Master Raymond will not mention to king Edward, in telling him the above, that his envoys did not come to the last meeting, only that no agreement has been made within the time.

6. Master Raymund will therefore feel his way cautiously with the said kings and others as to whether it will please them that the pope should commission the said cardinal Guy de Boulogne, or other nuncios, or what the English wish to be done, seeing that the pope will omit nothing in his power to bring about the desired end.

7. Although the pope is informed that the truce between the said kings is to last until the feast of St. Martin, since some say that it is to last until Easter, Master Raymund will procure its prolongation if it is fixed for St. Martin's, until the next following feast of St. John Baptist, so that the peace may meanwhile be negotiated; but if it is fixed for Easter, then nothing is to be said about the prolongation unless the cardinal of Boulogne sees fit.

Non. July. Villeneuve by Avignon. (f. 132*d*.) To all prelates, secular and regular, in England. Mandate to receive and assist Master Raymund Pelegrini on his mission, and to furnish him with 6 gold florins a day.

Ibid. (f. 133.) To the same in France. The like, substituting 4 florins for 6.

4 Id. July. Villeneuve by Avignon. (f. 133.) To king Edward. Exhorting him to make peace with the king of France, to which end Guy, bishop of Porto, has conferred with Henry, duke of Lancaster. The pope is grieved that the envoys did not come to terms at the last meeting, and that the truce is to last so short a time. The pope is sending Master Raymund Pelegrini, the bearer of these presents, and prays the king to give full credence to him.

Ibid. (f. 134*d*.) To John, bishop of Rochester. Exhorting him to assist Master Raymund in his mission.

Ibid. To Henry (Richard), earl of Arundel, and Ralph, earl of Stafford. The like.

4 Non. Aug. Villeneuve by Avignon. (f. 145.) To John, king of France. Exhorting him to send envoys to the apostolic see to treat touching peace with those of king Edward, the negotiations begun by Guy, bishop of Porto, having been frustrated, the said bishop will inform him further.

Ibid. (f. 145*d*.) To Guy, bishop of Porto. After the departure of Master Raymund, the archdeacon of Huntingdon, king Edward's envoy, came to ask for an answer to the matters previously laid before the pope by the king's confessor. The pope replied that although immediately after the confessor's departure, he sent Androinus, abbot of Cluny, to the king of France and to cardinal Guy, touching the said matters, he had not yet had an answer from king John, and that the archdeacon ought not to be, and that the pope was not, surprised if the said king did not, at the will of his adversary, give way touching the matters laid before the pope by the said confessor, nor was the pope surprised that the king of France had not replied to him, since enough time had not yet elapsed since the departure of the confessor.

The pope, conferring with the archdeacon touching the reformation of peace, and telling him of the mission of Master Raymund, the archdeacon, among many other things, said, as indeed has been written from England, that king Edward, thinking the king of France was dearer to the cardinal than he was, would not suffer the negotiation to be carried on before him. In reply to this the pope said to the archdeacon that the cardinal was above suspicion, which the archdeacon admitted, but added that king Edward would certainly not change his mind about the matter. The pope thereupon consulted with some cardinals, and with Charles de Ispania, count of Angoulême, constable of France, and it was determined to request the said kings to send envoys to the pope, whose letters to that effect are enclosed.

As the cardinal will have learned from his intercourse with with them how suspicious the English are, and how difficult the conduct of the business is, he is prayed to induce the king of France to consent to the sending envoys, and to signify the same, and the time when the envoys are likely to be at Avignon, to Master Raymund, or the said archdeacon, or to Henry, duke of Lancaster, by the bearer of these presents, and to send the pope's letters to Master Raymund, so that he may obtain the like consent from king Edward.

As the negotiation will take time, the truce should be prolonged, and it is proposed that on the part of the two kings there should be a meeting between Guines and Calais of representatives, who would agree that the truce should last for one or two years from the limit already fixed. The cardinal is desired to urge the king of France to assent to this, and to signify what he has done to Master Raymund, who has the pope's mandate to obtain the like assent from king Edward. The pope has written at this length, but not as imposing on him a law, seeing that the cardinal's experience will be a sufficient guide in the business. A copy of the pope's letters to Master Raymund is enclosed.

Ibid. (f. 147.) To king Edward. The pope has received the archdeacon of Huntingdon with benignity, and has verbally replied to him what he will convey to the king. As the failure of the mediation of Guy, bishop of Porto, has frustrated the pope's hope touching the reformation of peace between him and the king of France, the pope prays him to send envoys to the apostolic see, who, together with those of the king of France, may negotiate a peace. And as the negotiation may be prolonged it is suggested that some representatives of the two kings should meet between Guines and Calais, and agree that the truce should last for one or two years from the limit already fixed. The pope is writing to Master Raymund, who will further explain to the king the mind of his Holiness.

Ibid. (f. 148.) To Master Raymund Pelegrini, canon of London, papal chaplain and nuncio. The archdeacon of Huntingdon, king Edward's envoy, has laid certain matters before the pope, to which a verbal answer has been given; and as it is probable that until the archdeacon returns, Master Raymund will not be able to have an answer touching the business on which he has been sent, the archdeacon's return has been hastened. For the furtherance of the negotiation the pope wishes envoys to be sent to him by the two kings, and the truce to be continued, and is writing to them, and to Guy, bishop of Porto, to this effect which also Master Raymund is ordered to promote, and to obey the orders which the bishop of Porto will write to him. Copies of the pope's letters to the said bishop and to the king of England are enclosed.

Id. Sept. Villeneuve by Avignon. (f. 184.) To David, king of Scotland. Recommending to him William de Grenlau, dean of Glasgow, papal nuncio, bearer of these presents.

14 Kal. Feb. Avignon. (f. 12.) To Bartholomew de Bourghess, knight, chamberlain of England. By the relation of Master Raymund Pelegrini, the pope has learned that the said knight, and some prelates and nobles, who had left the place of meeting, ought to meet there again to resume the treaty of peace about the middle of Lent, or else that they or other envoys of the kings of France and England ought to meet in the pope's presence within fifteen days after Easter. Although the pope is displeased at the delay, he rejoices in the hope that God will move the said kings to peace; the pope therefore requests and desires him to give all diligence to this end.

5 Non. Oct. Avignon. (f. 190*d.*) — To Nicholas, cardinal priest of St. Vitalis. Reproving him for differing from Talayrand, bishop of Albano, in the business of their mission, and reminding him that two heads are better than one (melius et sanius vident plurium oculi quam paucorum).

5 Non. Oct. Avignon. (f. 201.) — To Edward, prince of Wales. Desiring him, now that John, king of France, has been taken prisoner, to show his gratitude to God by turning his mind to peace and concord, and to give full credence to the cardinal nuncios.

2 Non. Oct. Avignon. (f. 201*d.*) — To the same. Cardinal Talayrand has described his generosity and submission to himself, and his respect for John, king of France, his prisoner. The pope hopes accordingly that he will listen to proposals of peace.

2 Id. Nov. Avignon. (f. 232*d.*) — To the same cardinal. The pope has received his letter, and is glad that he hopes to succeed in his mission. He has sent a letter in his own handwriting by another messenger. He has granted the graces requested by Francis de Sancto Maximo, papal notary, for which the cardinal has not applied, only in moderate numbers, as the case is unusual.

16 Kal. Dec. Avignon. (f. 233.) — To Edward, prince of Wales. Desiring him not to suffer Amaneuus, archbishop of Bordeaux, and his officials, to be molested, or clerks and ecclesiastics to be brought before a secular tribunal.

8 Kal. Dec. Avignon. (f. 234*d.*) — To Nicholas, cardinal priest of St. Vitalis, papal nuncio. The pope has received and studied his letter containing what he wrote to England, and the answer he received; although the answer gives but little promise of peace the pope will not give up all hope. The cardinal is therefore to make every

4 Kal. Dec. Avignon. (f. 235.) To the same. The pope has received his letters describing his progress since he arrived in Paris, and containing his excuses as to the assertion that he and his colleague rarely meet and more rarely agree. The pope gives him full credit for the purity of his intentions, but continues to insist on the necessity of the cardinals acting in concert.

Ibid. (f. 236.) To the same. A more forcible letter to the same effect. The pope fears that his disagreement with his colleague will most probably ruin the business of their mission, and desires him to consider his responsibility if the mission fails, and hopes he will make up for his waste of time.

9 Kal. Jan. Avignon. (f. 247*d*.) To the same. Praying him to prolong the time for the return to prison of Bernard, count of Ventadour, until the first day of next Lent, he having refused to break his parole, and fearing that his going on the business of the peace to Charles son of the king of France would hinder his return within the time appointed.

5 Kal. Jan. Avignon. (f. 248.) To Talayrand, bishop of Albano. Requesting him to endeavour to act in concert with his colleague.

Ibid. (f. 249.) To Nicholas, cardinal priest of St. Vitalis. The like.

The pope has received his letters in duplicate touching his secretary, Thomas de Brembre, canon of Salisbury, cited by papal authority at the instance of his adversary, and asking the pope to refrain from such citations, which the king says were formerly issued only in extreme cases against tyrants and rebels of the Roman church. The pope replies that he is not conscious of having injured any of the king's servants, that he wishes to administer justice without respect of persons, and desires the king to take care that his servants do not, through ignorance or dissimulation, make justice yield to injury, or reason succumb to will. He implores the king to restrain the licence of his servants against ecclesiastics, in whose persons an injury is done to the church.

4 Kal. June. Villeneuve by Avignon. (f. 87.) To the same. The pope has heard from the cardinal nuncios and others of the treaty of peace arranged in their presence between king John and the prince of Wales before the departure of the latter from Gascony, subject to king Edward's assent, and urges him to receive favourably Peter, cardinal priest of the basilica of the Twelve Apostles, who was a party to the treaty on behalf of the king of France, and to dispose his mind to peace with the king of France, so that the Holy Land may be freed from the Saracens. [Fœdera.]

Ibid. (f. 140.)

To John de [Woodrove], Friar Preacher, king Edward's confessor. Desiring him to use his influence with the king touching the same, as the cardinal, wishing to act towards the king in a friendly way, does not intend to make use of the papal citation against the occupier of the archdeaconry.

16 Kal. Aug. Villeneuve by Avignon. (f. 152*d.*)

To king Edward. Touching the matter of complaint about his secretary, Thomas de Brambre, canon of Salisbury, the king asserting that the citation granted to Thomas, bishop of Ely, against some justices and other persons of the realm is in derogation of the laws of England, and that the processes by the said justices against the bishop are duly held. The pope replies as before (2 Kal. June), and adds that the king is not to take it ill if the vicar of Christ defends prelates and their churches when attacked by the justices, not in discharge of their office, but moved by personal hatred. Ignorance is no excuse, and if there be dissimulation the king is implicated in it. The pope beseeches the king (as before) to restrain the licence of his servants, and if the bishop of Ely has transgressed, he is to be made by strict administration of justice to keep the rules of canonical observance. The pope is writing about the same to the cardinal nuncios, to whom the king may give full credence.

Ibid. (f. 154*d.*)

To Talairand, bishop of Albano, and Nicholas, cardinal of St. Vitale's, papal nuncios. The king has seen their letters and those of the prince of Wales and of king Edward, touching the business of the bishop of Ely, and encloses a copy of his answer to the king, desiring them to present the same to him, and to endeavour to remove his rancour against the said bishop, and to bring about a peaceful settlement of the matter.

6 Kal. Aug. Avignon. (f. 155.)

To Simon, archbishop of Canterbury. Touching the same matter, and desiring him as metropolitan of the bishop of Ely, and successor of St. Thomas the Martyr, to act as befits him, and not, as the pope is grieved to hear that he and other prelates and ecclesiastics have done, to keep silence, and like dumb dogs not dare to bark against the doers of such things.

Ibid. (f. 155*d.*)

To William, bishop of Winchester, John, bishop of Rochester, and John de Winewyke, treasurer of York. The like, mutatis mutandis.

1357.

Ibid. (f. 219.) To king Edward. The like.

Ibid. To Talairand, bishop of Albano, papal nuncio. Praying him to use his influence with the said kings touching the same.

Ibid. (f. 219*d*.) To the bishop of Winchester; Michael, bishop of London; William, archbishop of Sens; Nicholas, cardinal of St. Vitalis, papal nuncio; Peter, cardinal of the basilica of the Twelve Apostles; the prince of Wales; Henry, duke of Lancaster; John (Richard), earl of Arundel; Bernard, count of Ventadour; Guy de Brian, knight. The like.

Id. Oct. Avignon. (f. 230.) To John, archbishop of Reims. Thanking him for the honours, favours, and subsidies granted by him to Charles, duke of Brittany, and his children, so that his escape from going to England, and from the charge of perjury, and their liberation from prison is due to the archbishop's beneficence alone.

REGESTA, VOL. CCXL.

8 Kal. Feb. Avignon. (f. 16*d*.) To king Edward. The pope has received his letters, in answer to which he says that he had written to him in French by the hand of Adam de Hilton, the king's secretary, recommending to him Thomas, bishop of Ely. Before the king's letters reached him, the pope heard that many of the king's officials and ministers were injuring the said bishop and his officials, and therefore calls on him to act as a catholic prince in defence of churches and ecclesiastics in his realm, and to put an end to the matter of complaint. Touching this the said secretary will verbally lay the pope's wishes before the king.

CALENDARS OF STATE PAPERS, &c.

[IMPERIAL 8vo., cloth. Price 15*s*. each Volume or Part.]

As far back as the year 1800, a Committee of the House of Commons recommended that Indexes and Calendars should be made to the Public Records, and thirty-six years afterwards another Committee of the House of Commons reiterated that recommendation in more forcible words; but it was not until the incorporation of the State Paper Office with the Public Record Office that the Master of the Rolls found himself in a position to take the necessary steps for carrying out the wishes of the House of Commons.

On 7 December 1855, he stated to the Lords of the Treasury that although "the Records, State Papers, and Documents in his charge constitute the most complete and perfect series of their kind in the civilized world," and although "they are of the greatest value in a historical and constitutional point of view, yet they are comparatively useless to the public, from the want of proper Calendars and Indexes."

Their Lordships assented to the necessity of having Calendars prepared and printed, and empowered the Master of the Rolls to take such steps as might be necessary for this purpose.

THE CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND DURING THE MIDDLE AGES.

[ROYAL 8vo. Price 10*s.* each Volume or Part.]

On 25 July 1822, the House of Commons presented an address to the Crown, stating that the editions of the works of our ancient historians were inconvenient and defective; that many of their writings still remained in manuscript, and, in some cases, in a single copy only. They added, "that an uniform and convenient edition of the whole, published "under His Majesty's royal sanction, would be an undertaking honour- "able to His Majesty's reign, and conducive to the advancement of "historical and constitutional knowledge; that the House therefore "humbly besought His Majesty, that He would be graciously pleased to "give such directions as His Majesty, in His wisdom, might think fit, "for the publication of a complete edition of the ancient historians "of this realm."

The Master of the Rolls, being very desirous that effect should be given to the resolution of the House of Commons, submitted to Her Majesty's Treasury in 1857 a plan for the publication of the ancient chronicles and memorials of the United Kingdom, and it was adopted accordingly.

Of the Chronicles and Memorials, the following volumes have been published. They embrace the period from the earliest time of British history down to the end of the reign of Henry VII.

1. THE CHRONICLE OF ENGLAND, by JOHN CAPGRAVE. Edited by the Rev. F. C. HINGESTON, M.A. 1858.

   Capgrave's Chronicle extends from the creation of the world to the year 1417. As a record of the language spoken in Norfolk (being written in English), it is of considerable value.

2. CHRONICON MONASTERII DE ABINGDON. Vols. I. and II. Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A., Vicar of Leighton Buzzard. 1858.

   This Chronicle traces the history of the monastery from its foundation by King Ina of Wessex, to the reign of Richard I. The author had access to the title deeds of the house, and incorporates into his history various charters of the Saxon kings, of great importance as illustrating not only the history of the locality but that of the kingdom.

3. LIVES OF EDWARD THE CONFESSOR. I.—La Estoire de Seint Aedward le Rei. II.—Vita Beati Edvardi Regis et Confessoris. III.—Vita Æduuardi Regis qui apud Westmonasterium requiescit. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1858.

   The first is a poem in Norman French, probably written in 1245. The second is an anonymous poem, written between 1440 and 1450, which is mainly valuable as a specimen of the Latin poetry of the time. The third, also by an anonymous author, was apparently written between 1066 and 1074.

4. MONUMENTA FRANCISCANA. Vol. I.—Thomas de Ecoleston de Adventu Fratrum Minorum in Angliam. Adæ de Marisco Epistolæ. Registrum Fratrum Minorum Londoniæ. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. Vol. II.—De Adventu Minorum; re-edited, with additions. Chronicle of the Grey Friars. The ancient English version of the Rule of St. Francis. Abbreviatio Statutorum, 1451, &c. Edited by RICHARD HOWLETT, Barrister-at-Law. 1858, 1882.

   The first volume contains original materials for the history of the settlement of the order of St. Francis in England, the letters of Adam de Marisco, and other papers. The second volume contains materials found since the first volume was published.

5. Fasciculi Zizaniorum Magistri Johannis Wyclif cum Tritico. Ascribed to Thomas Netter, of Walden, Provincial of the Carmelite Order in England, and Confessor to King Henry the Fifth. Edited by the Rev. W. W. Shirley, M.A., Tutor and late Fellow of Wadham College, Oxford. 1858.

This work gives the only contemporaneous account of the rise of the Lollards.

6. The Buik of the Croniclis of Scotland; or, A Metrical Version of the History of Hector Boece; by William Stewart. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by W. B. Turnbull, Barrister-at-Law. 1858.

This is a metrical translation of a Latin Prose Chronicle, written in the first half of the 16th century. The narrative begins with the earliest legends and ends with the death of James I. of Scotland, and the "evil ending of the traitors that slew him." The peculiarities of the Scottish dialect are well illustrated in this version.

7. Johannis Capgrave Liber de Illustribus Henricis. Edited by the Rev. F. C. Hingeston, M.A. 1858.

The first part relates only to the history of the Empire from the election of Henry I. the Fowler, to the end of the reign of the Emperor Henry VI. The second part is devoted to English history, from the accession of Henry I. in 1100, to 1446, which was the twenty-fourth year of the reign of Henry VI. The third part contains the lives of illustrious men who have borne the name of Henry in various parts of the world.

8. Historia Monasterii S. Augustini Cantuariensis, by Thomas of Elmham, formerly Monk and Treasurer of that Foundation. Edited by Charles Hardwick, M.A., Fellow of St. Catharine's Hall, and Christian Advocate in the University of Cambridge. 1858.

This history extends from the arrival of St. Augustine in Kent until 1191.

9. Eulogium (Historiarum sive Temporis): Chronicon ab Orbe condito usque ad Annum Domini 1366; a monacho quodam Malmesbiriensi exaratum. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by F. S. Haydon, B.A. 1858–1863.

This is a Latin Chronicle extending from the Creation to the latter part of the reign of Edward III., and written by a monk of Malmesbury, about the year 1367. A continuation carries the history of England down to the year 1413.

10. Memorials of Henry the Seventh: Bernardi Andreæ Tholosatis Vita Regis Henrici Septimi; necnon alia quædam ad eundem Regem spectantia. Edited by James Gairdner. 1858.

The contents of this volume are—(1) a life of Henry VII., by his poet Laureate and historiographer, Bernard André, of Toulouse, with some compositions in verse, of which he is supposed to have been the author; (2) the journals of Roger Machado during certain embassies to Spain and Brittany, the first of which had reference to the marriage of the King's son, Arthur, with Catharine of Arragon; (3) two curious reports by envoys sent to Spain in 1505 touching the succession to the Crown of Castile, and a project of marriage between Henry VII. and the Queen of Naples; and (4) an account of Philip of Castile's reception in England in 1506. Other documents of interest are given in an appendix.

11. Memorials of Henry the Fifth. I.—Vita Henrici Quinti, Roberto Redmanno auctore. II.—Versus Rhythmici in laudem Regis Henrici Quinti. III.—Elmhami Liber Metricus de Henrico V. Edited by Charles A. Cole. 1858.

12. Munimenta Gildhallæ Londoniensis; Liber Albus, Liber Custumarum, et Liber Horn, in archivis Gildhallæ asservati. Vol. I., Liber Albus. Vol. II. (in Two Parts). Liber Custumarum. Vol. III., Translation of the Anglo-Norman Passages in Liber Albus, Glossaries, Appendices, and Index. Edited by Henry Thomas Riley, M.A., Barrister-at-Law. 1859–1862.

The Liber Albus, compiled by John Carpenter, Common Clerk of the City of London in the year 1419, gives an account of the laws, regulations, and institutions of that City in the 12th, 13th, 14th, and early part of the 15th centuries. The Liber Custumarum was compiled in the early part of the 14th century during the reign of Edward II. It also gives an account of the laws, regulations, and institutions of the City of London in the 12th, 13th, and early part of the 14th centuries.

13. Chronica Johannis de Oxenedes. Edited by Sir Henry Ellis, K.H. 1859.

Although this Chronicle tells of the arrival of Hengist and Horsa, it substantially begins with the reign of King Alfred, and comes down to 1292. It is particularly valuable for notices of events in the eastern portions of the Kingdom.

14. A Collection of Political Poems and Songs relating to English History, from the Accession of Edward III. to the Reign of Henry VIII. Vols. I. and II. Edited by Thomas Wright, M.A. 1859–1861.

17. Brut y Tywysogion; or, The Chronicle of the Princes of Wales. Edited by the Rev. John Williams ab Ithel, M.A. 1860.

This work, written in the ancient Welsh language, begins with the abdication and death of Caedwala at Rome, in the year 681, and continues the history down to the subjugation of Wales by Edward I., about the year 1282.

18. A Collection of Royal and Historical Letters during the Reign of Henry IV. 1399–1404. Edited by the Rev. F. C. Hingeston, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford. 1860.

19. The Repressor of over much Blaming of the Clergy. By Reginald Pecock, sometime Bishop of Chichester. Vols. I. and II. Edited by the Rev. Churchill Babington, B.D., Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. 1860.

The "Repressor" may be considered the earliest piece of good theological disquisition of which our English prose literature can boast. The author was born about the end of the fourteenth century, consecrated Bishop of St. Asaph in the year 1444, and translated to the see of Chichester in 1450. His work is interesting chiefly because it gives a full account of the views of the Lollards, and it has great value for the philologist.

20. Annales Cambriæ. Edited by the Rev. John Williams ab Ithel, M.A. 1860.

These annals, which are in Latin, commenced in 447, and come down to 1288. The earlier portion appears to be taken from an Irish Chronicle used by Tigernach, and by the compiler of the Annals of Ulster.

21. The Works of Giraldus Cambrensis. Vols. I.–IV. Edited by the Rev. J. S. Brewer, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. Vols. V.–VII. Edited by the Rev. James F. Dimock, M.A., Rector of Barnburgh, Yorkshire. Vol. VIII. Edited by George F. Warner, M.A., of the Department of MSS., British Museum. 1861–1891.

These volumes contain the historical works of Gerald du Barry, who lived in the reigns of Henry II., Richard I., and John. His works are of a very miscellaneous nature, both in prose and verse, and are remarkable for the anecdotes which they contain.

The Topographia Hibernica (in Vol. V.) is the result of Giraldus' two visits to Ireland, the first in 1183, the second in 1185–6, when he accompanied Prince John into that country. The Expugnatio Hibernica was written about 1188, and may be regarded rather as a great epic than a sober relation of acts occurring in his own days. Vol. VI. contains the Itinerarium Kambriæ et Descriptio Kambriæ; and Vol. VII., the lives of S. Remigius and S. Hugh. Vol. VIII. contains the Treatise De Principum Instructione, and an Index to Vols. I.–IV. and VIII.

22. Letters and Papers illustrative of the Wars of the English in France during the Reign of Henry the Sixth, King of England. Vol. I., and Vol. II. (in Two Parts). Edited by the Rev. Joseph Stevenson, M.A., Vicar of Leighton Buzzard. 1861–1864.

23. The Anglo-Saxon Chronicle, according to the several Original Authorities. Vol. I., Original Texts. Vol. II., Translation. Edited and translated by Benjamin Thorpe, Member of the Royal Academy of Sciences at Munich, and of the Society of Netherlandish Literature at Leyden. 1861.

There are at present six independent manuscripts of the Saxon Chronicle, ending in different years, and written in different parts of the country. In this edition, the text of each manuscript is printed in columns on the same page, so that the student may see at a glance the various changes which occur in orthography.

24. LETTERS AND PAPERS ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE REIGNS OF RICHARD III. AND HENRY VII. Vols. I. and II. Edited by JAMES GAIRDNER. 1861–1863.

The principal contents of the volumes are some diplomatic Papers of Richard III., correspondence between Henry VII. and Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain; documents relating to Edmund de la Pole, Earl of Suffolk; and a portion of the correspondence of James IV. of Scotland.

25. LETTERS OF BISHOP GROSSETESTE. Edited by the Rev. HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1861.

The letters of Robert Grosseteste range in date from about 1210 to 1253, and relate to various matters connected not only with the political history of England during the reign of Henry III., but with its ecclesiastical condition. They refer especially to the diocese of Lincoln, of which Grosseteste was bishop.

26. DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE OF MANUSCRIPTS RELATING TO THE HISTORY OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND. Vol. I. (in Two Parts); Anterior to the Norman Invasion. (Out of Print.) Vol. II.; 1066–1200. Vol. III.; 1200–1327. By Sir THOMAS DUFFUS HARDY, D.C.L., Deputy Keeper of the Records. 1862–1871.

The object of this work is to publish notices of all known sources of British history, both printed and unprinted, in one continued sequence. The materials, when historical (as distinguished from biographical), are arranged under the year in which the latest event is recorded in the chronicle or history, and not under the period in which its author, real or supposed, flourished. Biographies are enumerated under the year in which the person commemorated died, and not under the year in which the life was written. A brief analysis of each work has been added when deserving it, in which original portions are distinguished from mere compilations. A biographical sketch of the author of each piece has been added, and a brief notice of such British authors as have written on historical subjects.

27. ROYAL AND OTHER HISTORICAL LETTERS ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE REIGN OF HENRY III. Vol. I., 1216–1235. Vol. II., 1236–1272. Selected and edited by the Rev. W. W. SHIRLEY, D.D., Regius Professor of Ecclesiastical History, and Canon of Christ Church, Oxford. 1862–1866.

28. CHRONICA MONASTERII S. ALBANI.—1. THOMÆ WALSINGHAM HISTORIA ANGLICANA; Vol. I., 1272–1381: Vol. II., 1381–1422. 2. WILLELMI RISHANGER CHRONICA ET ANNALES, 1259–1307. 3. JOHANNIS DE TROKELOWE ET HENRICI DE BLANEFORDE CHRONICA ET ANNALES 1259–1296; 1307–1324; 1392–1406. 4. GESTA ABBATUM MONASTERII S. ALBANI, A THOMA WALSINGHAM, REGNANTE RICARDO SECUNDO, EJUSDEM ECCLESIÆ PRÆCENTORE, COMPILATA; Vol. I., 793–1290: Vol. II., 1290–1349: Vol. III., 1349–1411. 5. JOHANNIS AMUNDESHAM, MONACHI MONASTERII S. ALBANI, UT VIDETUR, ANNALES; Vols. I. and II. 6. REGISTRA QUORUNDAM ABBATUM MONASTERII S. ALBANI, QUI SÆCULO XV^mo^ FLORUERE; Vol. I., REGISTRUM ABBATIÆ JOHANNIS WHETHAMSTEDE, ABBATIS MONASTERII SANCTI ALBANI, ITERUM SUSCEPTÆ; ROBERTO BLAKENEY, CAPELLANO, QUONDAM ADSCRIPTUM: Vol. II., REGISTRA JOHANNIS WHETHAMSTEDE, WILLELMI ALBON, ET WILLELMI WALINGFORDE, ABBATUM MONASTERII SANCTI ALBANI, CUM APPENDICE, CONTINENTE QUASDAM EPISTOLAS, A JOHANNE WHETHAMSTEDE CONSCRIPTAS. 7. YPODIGMA NEUSTRIÆ A THOMA WALSINGHAM, QUONDAM MONACHO MONASTERII S. ALBANI, CONSCRIPTUM. Edited by HENRY THOMAS RILEY, M.A., Barrister-at-Law. 1863–1876.

In the first two volumes is a History of England, from the death of Henry III. to the death of Henry V., by Thomas Walsingham, Precentor of St. Albans.

In the 3rd volume is a Chronicle of English History, attributed to William Rishanger, who lived in the reign of Edward I.: an account of transactions attending the award of the kingdom of Scotland to John Balliol, 1291–1292, also attributed to William Rishanger, but on no sufficient ground: a short Chronicle of English History, 1292 to 1300, by an unknown hand: a short Chronicle Willelmi Rishanger Gesta Edwardi Primi, Regis Angliæ, with Annales Regum Angliæ, probably by the same hand: and fragments of three Chronicles of English History, 1285 to 1307.

In the 4th volume is a Chronicle of English History, 1259 to 1296: Annals of Edward II., 1307 to 1323, by John de Trokelowe, a monk of St. Albans, and a continuation of Trokelowe's Annals, 1323, 1324, by Henry de Blaneforde: a full Chronicle of English History, 1392 to 1406; and an account of the Benefactors of St. Albans, written in the early part of the 15th century.

The 5th, 6th, and 7th volumes contain a history of the Abbots of St. Albans, 793 to 1411, mainly compiled by Thomas Walsingham: with a Continuation.

The 8th and 9th volumes, in continuation of the Annals, contain a Chronicle, probably of John Amundesham, a monk of St. Albans.

The 10th and 11th volumes relate especially to the acts and proceedings of Abbots Whethamstede, Albon, and Wallingford.

The 12th volume contains a compendious History of England to the reign of Henry V., and of Normandy in early times, also by Thomas Walsingham, and dedicated to Henry V.

29. CHRONICON ABBATIÆ EVESHAMENSIS, AUCTORIBUS DOMINICO PRIORE EVESHAMIÆ ET THOMA DE MARLEBERGE ABBATE, A FUNDATIONE AD ANNUM 1213, UNA CUM CONTINUATIONE AD ANNUM 1418. Edited by the Rev. W. D. MACRAY, Bodleian Library, Oxford. 1863.

The Chronicle of Evesham illustrates the history of that important monastery from about 690 to 1418. Its chief feature is an autobiography, which makes us acquainted with the inner daily life of a great abbey. Interspersed are many notices of general, personal, and local history.

30. RICARDI DE CIRENCESTRIA SPECULUM HISTORIALE DE GESTIS REGUM ANGLIÆ. Vol. I., 447–871. Vol. II., 872–1066. Edited by JOHN E. B. MAYOR, M.A., Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. 1863–1869.

Richard of Cirencester's history, in four books, extends from 447 to 1066. It gives many charters in favour of Westminster Abbey, and a very full account of the lives and miracles of the saints, especially of Edward the Confessor, whose reign occupies the fourth book. A treatise on the Coronation, by William of Sudbury, a monk of Westminster, fills book ii. c. 3.

31. YEAR BOOKS OF THE REIGN OF EDWARD THE FIRST. Years 20–21, 21–22, 30–31, 32–33, and 33–35 Edw. I; and 11–12 Edw. III. Edited and translated by ALFRED JOHN HORWOOD, Barrister-at-Law. Years 12–13, 13–14, 14, 14–15, 15 and 16, Edward III. Edited and translated by LUKE OWEN PIKE, M.A., Barrister-at-Law. 1863–1896.

The "Year Books" are the earliest of our Law Reports. They contain matter not only of practical utility to lawyers in the present day, but also illustrative of almost every branch of history, while for certain philological purposes they hold a position absolutely unique.

32. NARRATIVES OF THE EXPULSION OF THE ENGLISH FROM NORMANDY, 1449–1450.—Robertus Blondelli de Reductione Normanniæ: Le Recouvrement de Normendie, par Berry, Hérault du Roy: Conferences between the Ambassadors of France and England. Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A. 1863.

33. HISTORIA ET CARTULARIUM MONASTERII S. PETRI GLOUCESTRIÆ. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by W. H. HART, F.S.A., Membre correspondant de la Société des Antiquaires de Normandie. 1863–1867.

34. ALEXANDRI NECKAM DE NATURIS RERUM LIBRI DUO; with NECKAM'S POEM, DE LAUDIBUS DIVINÆ SAPIENTIÆ. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, M.A. 1863.

In the De Naturis Rerum are to be found what may be called the rudiments of many sciences mixed up with much error and ignorance. Neckam had his own views in morals, and in giving us a glimpse of them, as well as of his other opinions, he throws much light upon the manners, customs, and general tone of thought prevalent in the twelfth century.

35. LEECHDOMS, WORTCUNNING, AND STARCRAFT OF EARLY ENGLAND; being a Collection of Documents illustrating the History of Science in this Country before the Norman Conquest. Vols. I.–III. Collected and edited by the Rev. T. OSWALD COCKAYNE, M.A. 1864–1866.

36. ANNALES MONASTICI. Vol. I.:—Annales de Margan, 1066–1232; Annales de Theokesberia, 1066–1263; Annales de Burton, 1004–1263. Vol. II.:—Annales Monasterii de Wintonia, 519–1277; Annales Monasterii de Waverleia, 1–1291. Vol. III.:—Annales Prioratus de Dunstaplia, 1–1297. Annales Monasterii de Bermundeseia, 1042–1432. Vol. IV.:—Annales Monasterii de Oseneia, 1016–1347; Chronicon vulgo dictum Chronicon Thomæ Wykes, 1066–1289; Annales Prioratus de Wigornia, 1–1377. Vol. V.:—Index and Glossary. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, and Registrary of the University, Cambridge. 1864–1869.

The present collection embraces chronicles compiled in religious houses in England during the thirteenth century. These distinct works are ten in number. The extreme period which they embrace ranges from the year 1 to 1432.

37. MAGNA VITA S. HUGONIS EPISCOPI LINCOLNIENSIS. Edited by the Rev. JAMES F. DIMOCK, M.A., Rector of Barnburgh, Yorkshire. 1864.

This work is valuable, not only as a biography of a celebrated ecclesiastic but as the work of a man, who, from personal knowledge, gives notices of passing events, as well as of individuals who were then taking active part in public affairs.

38. CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS OF THE REIGN OF RICHARD THE FIRST. Vol. I.:—ITINERARIUM PEREGRINORUM ET GESTA REGIS RICARDI. Vol. II.:—EPISTOLÆ CANTUARIENSES; the Letters of the Prior and Convent of Christ Church, Canterbury; 1187 to 1199. Edited by the Rev. WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Vicar of Navestock, Essex, and Lambeth Librarian. 1864–1865.

The authorship of the Chronicle in Vol. I., hitherto ascribed to Geoffrey Vinesauf, is now more correctly ascribed to Richard, Canon of the Holy Trinity of London.

In letters in Vol. II., written between 1187 and 1199, had their origin in a dispute which arose from the attempts of Baldwin and Hubert, archbishops of Canterbury, to found a college of secular canons, a project which gave great umbrage to the monks of Canterbury.

39. RECUEIL DES CRONIQUES ET ANCHIENNES ISTORIES DE LA GRANT BRETAIGNE A PRESENT NOMME ENGLETERRE, par JEHAN DE WAURIN. Vol. I. Albina to 688. Vol. II., 1399–1422. Vol. III., 1422–1431. Edited by WILLIAM HARDY, F.S.A. 1864–1879. Vol. IV., 1431–1447. Vol. V., 1447–1471. Edited by Sir WILLIAM HARDY, F.S.A., and EDWARD L. C. P. HARDY, F.S.A. 1884–1891.

40. A COLLECTION OF THE CHRONICLES AND ANCIENT HISTORIES OF GREAT BRITAIN, NOW CALLED ENGLAND, by JOHN DE WAURIN. Vol. I., Albina to 668. Vol. II., 1399–1422. Vol. III., 1422–1431. (Translations of the preceding Vols. I., II., and III.) Edited and translated by Sir WILLIAM HARDY, F.S.A., and EDWARD L. C. P. HARDY, F.S.A. 1864–1891.

41. POLYCHRONICON RANULPHI HIGDEN, with Trevisa's Translation. Vols. I. and II. Edited by CHURCHILL BABINGTON, B.D., Senior Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge Vols. III.–IX. Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH RAWSON LUMBY, D.D., Norrisian Professor of Divinity, Vicar of St. Edward's, Fellow of St. Catharine's College, and late Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge. 1865–1886.

This chronicle begins with the creation, and is brought down to the reign of Edward III. It enables us to form a very fair estimate of the knowledge of history and geography which well-informed readers of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries possessed, for it was then the standard work on general history.

The two English translations, which are printed with the original Latin, afford interesting illustrations of the gradual change of our language, for one was made in the fourteenth century, the other in the fifteenth.

42. LE LIVERE DE REIS DE BRITTANIE E LE LIVERE DE REIS DE ENGLETERE. Edited by the Rev. JOHN GLOVER, M.A., Vicar of Brading, Isle of Wight, formerly Librarian of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1865.

These two treaties are valuable as careful abstracts of previous historians. Some various readings are given which are interesting to the philologist as instances of semi-Saxonised French.

43. CHRONICA MONASTERII DE MELSA AB ANNO 1150 USQUE AD ANNUM 1406, Vols. I.–III. Edited by EDWARD AUGUSTUS BOND, Assistant Keeper of Manuscripts, and Egerton Librarian, British Museum. 1866–1868.

The Abbey of Meaux was a Cistercian house, and the work of its abbot is a faithful and often minute record of the establishment of a religious community, of its progress in forming an ample revenue, of its struggles to maintain its acquisitions, and of its relations to the governing institutions of the country.

44. MATTHÆI PARISIENSIS HISTORIA ANGLORUM, SIVE, UT VULGO DICITUR, HISTORIA MINOR. Vols. I., II., and III. 1067–1253. Edited by Sir FREDERICK MADDEN, K.H., Keeper of the Manuscript Department of British Museum. 1866–1869.

45. LIBER MONASTERII DE HYDA: A CHRONICLE AND CHARTULARY OF HYDE ABBEY, WINCHESTER, 455–1023. Edited by EDWARD EDWARDS. 1866.

The "Book of Hyde" is a compilation from much earlier sources which are usually indicated with considerable care and precision. In many cases, however, the Hyde Chronicler appears to correct, to qualify, or to amplify the statements, which, in substance, he adopts.

There is to be found, in the "Book of Hyde," much information relating to the reign of King Alfred which is not known to exist elsewhere. The volume contains some curious specimens of Anglo-Saxon and mediæval English.

46. CHRONICON SCOTORUM: A CHRONICLE OF IRISH AFFAIRS, from the earliest times to 1135; and SUPPLEMENT, containing the Events from 1141 to 1150. Edited, with Translation, by WILLIAM MAUNSELL HENNESSY, M.R.I.A. 1866.

47. THE CHRONICLE OF PIERRE DE LANGTOFT, IN FRENCH VERSE, FROM THE EARLIEST PERIOD TO THE DEATH OF EDWARD I. Vols. I. and II. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, M.A. 1866–1868.

It is probable that Pierre de Langtoft was a canon of Bridlington, in Yorkshire, and lived in the reign of Edward I., and during a portion of the reign of Edward II. This chronicle is divided into three parts; in the first, is an abridgment of Geoffrey of Monmouth's "Historia Britonum;" in the second, a history of the Anglo-Saxon and Norman kings, to the death of Henry III.; in the third, a history of the reign of Edward I. The language is a curious specimen of the French of Yorkshire.

48. THE WAR OF THE GAEDHIL WITH THE GAILL, or THE INVASIONS OF IRELAND BY THE DANES AND OTHER NORSEMEN. Edited, with a Translation, by the Rev. JAMES HENTHORN TODD, D.D., Senior Fellow of Trinity College, and Regius Professor of Hebrew in the University of Dublin. 1867.

The work in its present form, in the editor's opinion, is a comparatively modern version of an ancient original. The story is told after the manner of the Scandinavian Sagas.

49. GESTA REGIS HENRICI SECUNDI BENEDICTI ABBATIS. CHRONICLE OF THE REIGNS OF HENRY II. AND RICHARD I., 1169–1192, known under the name of BENEDICT OF PETERBOROUGH. Vols. I. and II. Edited by the REV. WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, Oxford, and Lambeth Librarian. 1867.

50. MUNIMENTA ACADEMICA, OR, DOCUMENTS ILLUSTRATIVE OF ACADEMICAL LIFE AND STUDIES AT OXFORD (in Two Parts). Edited by the Rev. HENRY ANSTEY, M.A., Vicar of St. Wendron, Cornwall, and lately Vice-Principal of St. Mary Hall, Oxford. 1868.

51. CHRONICA MAGISTRI ROGERI DE HOUEDENE. Vols. I.–IV. Edited by the Rev. WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford. 1868–1871.

The earlier portion, extending from 732 to 1148, appears to be a copy of a compilation made in Northumbria about 1161, to which Hoveden added little. From 1148 to 1169—a very valuable portion of this work—the matter is derived from another source, to which Hoveden appears to have supplied little. From 1170 to 1192 is the portion which corresponds to some extent with the Chronicle known under the name of Benedict of Peterborough (see No. 49). From 1192 to 1201 may be said to be wholly Hoveden's work.

WORKS PUBLISHED IN PHOTOZINCOGRAPHY.

DOMESDAY BOOK, or the GREAT SURVEY OF ENGLAND OF WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR, 1086; fac-simile of the Part relating to each county, separately (with a few exceptions of double counties). Photozincographed at the Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton, by Colonel Sir HENRY JAMES, R.E., F.R.S., &c., DIRECTOR-GENERAL of the ORDNANCE SURVEY, under the Superintendence of W. BASEVI SANDERS, an Assistant Record Keeper. 35 Parts, imperial quarto and demy quarto (1861–1863), boards.

Domesday Survey is in two parts or volumes. The first in folio, contains the counties of Bedford, Berks, Bucks, Cambridge, Chester, and Lancaster, Cornwall, Derby, Devon, Dorset, Gloucester, Hants, Hereford, Herts, Huntingdon, Kent, Leicester and Rutland, Lincoln, Middlesex, Northampton, Nottingham, Oxford, Salop, Somerset, Stafford, Surrey, Sussex, Warwick, Wilts, Worcester, and York. The second volume, in quarto, contains the counties of Essex, Norfolk and Suffolk.

Domesday Book was printed verbatim et literatim during the last century, in consequence of an address of the House of Lords to King George III. in 1767. It was not, however, commenced until 1773, and was completed early in 1783. In 1860, Her Majesty's Government with the concurrence of the Master of the Rolls, determined to apply the art of photozincography to the production of a fac-simile of Domesday Book.

This work forms a comprehensive Palæographic Series for Ireland. It furnishes characteristic specimens of the documents which have come down from each of the classes which, in past ages, formed principal elements in the population of Ireland, or exercised an influence in her affairs. With these reproductions are combined fac-similes of writings connected with eminent personages or transactions of importance in the annals of the country to the early part of the eighteenth century.

The specimens have been reproduced as nearly as possible in accordance with the originals, in dimensions, colouring, and general appearance. Characteristic examples of styles of writing and caligraphic ornamentation are, so far as practicable, associated with subjects of historic and linguistic interest. Descriptions of the various manuscripts are given by the Editor in the Introduction. The contents of the specimens are fully elucidated and printed in the original languages, opposite to the Fac-similes—line for line—without contractions—thus facilitating reference and aiding effectively those interested in palæographic studies.

In the work are also printed in full, for the first time, many original and important historical documents.

Part I. commences with the earliest Irish MSS. extant.
Part II.: From the Twelfth Century to A.D. 1299.
Part III.: From A.D 1300 to end of reign of Henry VIII.
Part IV. 1.: From reign of Edward VI. to that of James I.
In Part IV. 2.—the work is carried down to the early part of the eighteenth century, with Index to the entire publication.
